What is a healing Mass?

Every Catholic Mass is a celebration of the Holy Eucharist. Every Mass is also a potential source of healing, most notably spiritual healing during the penitential rite when we confess our sins. But a Charismatic Healing Mass is all this and more. During a Healing Mass there is an openness to the gifts of the Holy Spirit, which are often present and active in the participants. The music tends to be a combination of jubilant, Spirit-guided praise and reverent, moving worship.

Included in the gifts most often experienced are prophecy, tongues, fervent intercession, and healing. This healing may be spontaneous and occur at any time during the Mass, or it may be experienced after Mass when prayer teams invoke the power of the Spirit and ask for healing, whether physical, emotional or spiritual. Whether one's experience is profound and immediate or subdued and postponed, in all cases Jesus is the healer operating through humble but gifted individuals who are open to being used as instruments of God's healing power.
